Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Wednesday 13 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Rain and snow dying out on Thursday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Cloudy with further rain, sleet and even perhaps with snow with some disruptive falls in places especially the Borders, Stirlingshire and Perthshire. Icy stretches in places. Milder along the west coast.

Thursday:
Rain and snow across central and eastern areas petering out in the afternoon. Elsewhere dry, some brightness in the far northwest. Northern Isles dry.

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Dry on Friday. Rain and high ground snow extending east on Saturday. Mainly dry on Sunday, chance of rain across the far north.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.